IMPROVEMENTS: Consist of exceptional water pipeline development; reservoirs; two sets of working corrals with stock water tanks; electrical service; well-kept perimeter fences and pasture fences (six separate pastures). Though the area is remote, rough country in places; the six separate pastures and water development contribute to superior “breed-up” rates each year. There is not a residence on the ranch—however building sites with available water and beautiful views are plentiful. There is a ‘cow camp’ with camp trailer (on septic & drain field); calving sheds, and some feed-grain storage.
